

Old crop flax prices were stable over the past month with elevator bids and specialty crop prices near $11.00 per bushel.

After leading the charge higher at the beginning of 2009, American flax prices have declined nearly 25% with the majority of the loss coming from the appreciation of the Canadian dollar.

New crop flax prices range from $9.75 to $10.75 with $10.00 the predominant bid across western Canada.
