

Jordon Hillier

Jordon Hillier farms at Southey with his wife, daughter, son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren. It is a mixed farm with a commercial cow-calf operation and crops including flax, peas, canola, wheat, barley and oats. Jordon has been a Councillor for the RM of Touchwood, a Wheat Pool delegate, Director of the Raymore Credit Union, Director of Southey Co-op, and board member of the former Qu'Appelle Valley School Division.

Jordon joined SaskFlax in 2015 and believes that SaskFlax ought to maintain a primary leadership role in all aspects of the industry, from plant breeding, to market development and supply. He supports varietal research including a role for public plant breeding programs. He supports farm saved seed and will work to maintain strong financial management and transparent decision making processes directed at maximizing the financial benefits accruing to farmers for the check-off dollars they have invested.
